Designing and Customizing

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Artwork:

Please submit original artwork as a part of your design.

If you include parts of any purchased stock vectors as a part of your design, please disclose this information on the entry form. If copyright restrictions inhibit commercial distribution of any purchased vectors you used, we will ask you to alter your design or your designs may be removed from consideration.

- ★ Designs should be able to accommodate average-length names (about 20 characters for a full name).
- ★ Be thoughtful and creative with your design elements! Customers love that we offer unique, customizable details on our products, especially moveable text/design elements that allow an invitation to work with an array of styles.
- ★ Do not apply textures, patterns, glyphs, warped effects or flourishes on any customizable text. Also, do not use alternating colors for letters within one customizable word (i.e., keep each customizable word one color).

Fonts:

You are encouraged to use new and fresh fonts for your invitation designs. You must own the rights to the fonts you use. Once your design is submitted, we will research purchasing any fonts that are used. If we are not able to purchase the fonts you use, we may ask that you alter your design. Click here to view our current For Your Party Fonts List.

- ★ For Your Party licenses all fonts that we use for print and online, and we are not able to distribute fonts to third parties.
- ★ You are encouraged to explore and use interesting, new fonts in your submissions that are not currently on our font list.
- ★ We will evaluate each font used in your winning design(s). If we don't have a commercial license for a particular font, we will determine whether it makes sense (and is possible) to purchase. If not, we will notify you and suggest a replacement font.
- ★ If you have any questions about fonts or potential substitutions, drop us a note at invitations@foryourparty.com.

Winner, Winner, You're our Designer!
